COVID-19 STATEMENT

2019-20 Grading Due to Covid-19, students received pass/fail grades for their fourth quarter (end of March until early June) coursework in 2020, as our students moved to distance learning. In the 2019-20 school year, year-end averages for all courses were based primarily on students' work over three quarters, while working on a department-by-department basis to determine guidelines by which grades could be adjusted upward—generally the standard was a potential increase of a third of a letter grade. Hotchkiss has been in-person for the 2020-21 and 2021-22 school years.

DISCIPLINARY REPORTING POLICY

It is a School expectation that students will respond truthfully to all questions on college applications regarding their disciplinary records. Reportable offenses include any disciplinary infractions that result in probation or dismissal. The College Advising Office will confirm the disciplinary history of Hotchkiss candidates who have faced probation and dismissal to colleges upon request from the college or university.

MacLeish Scholars Program

Ten members of the Class of 2022 were selected to the inaugural MacLeish Scholars Summer Program, which affords participants the chance to undertake archival research on a literary subject, complete a substantial creative writing project, and practice classical forms of papermaking, bookbinding, and letterpress printing. This summer, MacLeish students studied archival manuscripts at the Morgan Library, the Berg Collection, and the Schomburg Center. The MacLeish summer program is followed by a year-long honors course in which participants build their summer research into a 40-page senior thesis.

THE GAP YEAR

Hotchkiss encourages students to consider a gap year, a year between high school and college to enable reflection on goals for college and focus on further intellectual or personal pursuits. Students can choose from opportunities such as internships, service, employment, and continued learning — in the U.S. or abroad — while living independently and taking responsibility for their choices. In the past four years, 67 students have chosen to take a gap year.

Curriculum

The Hotchkiss curriculum aims to ignite students' imagination and intellect, promote openness and personal integrity, as well as cultivate empathy and responsible citizenship. Our revised upper-level offerings demand rigor, promote personal growth along with common purpose, and root students in a local context while drawing attention to the wider world. Hotchkiss learners strive for the deepest possible understanding of challenging concepts, skills, and content. We cultivate:

Self-directed learners who take responsibility for their work; who collaborate well in teams; who demonstrate imagination in defining and solving problems; and who take risks as learners.

Confident researchers who find and document information, using traditional and state-of-the-field methods and varied resources; and who evaluate the credibility of information.

Critical thinkers who read, listen to, analyze, and assess complex ideas and arguments; and who draw connections among disparate ideas and sources of information.

Expressive creators who demonstrate essential aural, kinesthetic, and visual skills when creating or performing works; and who both conceive original work and interpret existing work.

Effective communicators who present information and ideas in a clear and convincing manner using a variety of skills, tools, media, and technology appropriate to their goals and audience; and who have mastered the grammatical precision of their own language while demonstrating proficiency in at least one other.

Course Numbering

We have created greater consistency in our course numbering system. Beginning in the 2020-21 school year:

- The first two letters in the course designation refer to the discipline (the “SS” in SS454F refers to the social sciences).
- The first number in a course indicates the year either of the student or the number of years in the discipline, as appropriate (e.g. the “1” in HS150Y indicates the course is for first-year students).
- The second number in the course indicates the challenge level, with 0-2 at the foundational level, 3-7 representing typically challenging courses, and 8-9 representing our honors courses (e.g. the “8” in BI380Y indicates it is an honors course).
- The final number is simply to distinguish one course from another, and the letter at the end indicates when that course was taken (F=fall semester, S=spring semester, Y=full academic year, and P=Portals/summer term).

Moving Beyond the AP

Hotchkiss's curriculum draws on the deep expertise of our faculty to offer an upper-level elective curriculum that is more inquiry-driven and conceptually challenging than what the College Board offers.

Honors courses represent the most in-depth and conceptually challenging work available to students. To ensure the rigor of honors courses, we have expanded prerequisites, have begun standardizing a competency-based selection process, and are adopting demonstrations of learning for audiences within and beyond the Hotchkiss community.

AP to Honors course equivalents:

English. Students who previously enrolled in EN350 Upper Mid English (AP) will now be enrolled in EN350Y Upper Mid English. The three honors-level senior electives remain in place: EN480Y Honors Shakespeare and the Bible, EN481Y Honors Literary Research, and EN490Y Honors Senior English.

Humanities & Social Sciences. The AP program has given way to a set of advanced honors electives, several of which emphasize interdisciplinary themes: EC580 Honors Economics is now EC480Y; HI430 The Constitution and The Supreme Court is now SS480Y; HI441 Anatomy of Revolutions is now HI480F; HI451 World War II is now HI482F; HI452 Global Migration in the Modern Era is now SS481S; PL592 Fundamental Questions in Philosophy is now PL480S; SS431 National Security is now SS482F; SS432 Globalization and International Relations is now SS483S; HI485Y Honors Art History (formerly AR520 AP Art History) has moved to this department after a complete redesign.

New honors courses in Black Studies include HI483F Honors History of Anti-Blackness, and HI481S Honors African American History.

Science. Upperclass students who might previously have enrolled in BI550 AP Biology, CH550 AP Chemistry, PY550 AP Physics 1, PY581/2 AP Physics C, and ES550 AP Environmental Science would be likely to enroll in courses such as BI380Y Honors Biology, CH280 Honors Chemistry, CH490Y Honors/AP Chemistry, CH481F Honors Organic Chemistry, and CH482S Honors Inorganic Chemistry, PY380Y Honors Physics, PY481S Honors Fluids and Thermodynamics, PY482S Honors Waves and Electromagnetism, PY491F/492S Honors Calculus Based Physics, and EG481F/482S Honors Engineering.

The Science Department has added honors level electives in the areas of biology, chemistry, engineering, and environmental science.

Languages. Previous AP courses in Chinese, French, German, and Latin are now equivalent to the fourth year honors courses in those disciplines.

Math. The equivalents in math are relatively straightforward. AP Statistics is now MA582Y Honors/AP Statistics, MA550 AP Calculus AB is now MA551Y Calculus, MA580 AP Calculus BC is now MA581Y Honors Calculus. We continue to offer post-calculus courses including Further Math, Multivariable Calculus, and Linear Algebra.

Upper Level Courses of Note

Many of the electives available to upperclass students in the humanities disciplines (the Arts, English, and Humanities & Social Sciences) are less sharply distinguished between honors and non-honors levels. Some of our best prepared, most ambitious students enroll in non-honors courses in areas such as Asian studies, European and Russian studies, philosophy, and studio art.

Hotchkiss has added prerequisites to its science electives in order to raise the standards in these classes:

- BI450F Infection and Immunity, BI451S Introduction to Human Anatomy and Physiology, and BI452S Neuroanatomy and Human Behavior require completion of both a high school biology and chemistry course (or concurrent enrollment in one of them).
- BI490Y Honors Applied Scientific Research: Genetics requires successful completion of an advanced year-long high school science course such as BI380 Honors Biology or CH280 Honors Chemistry.
- CH481F Honors Organic Chemistry and CH482S Honors Inorganic Chemistry require completion of a high school chemistry course. These courses also require pre-calculus.
- Honors Engineering requires completion of a high school physics course and enrollment in MA450Y Precalculus or higher.
- Environmental science courses require successful completion of two years of lab science courses (chemistry recommended).
- ES4855 Conservation Biology requires completion of or concurrent enrollment in a high biology course.
- PY491F/PY492S Honors Calculus Based Physics requires concurrent enrollment in, or completion of, calculus.
- SC420F Introduction to Forensic Science requires completion of a high school chemistry course.

Students come to Hotchkiss ready to experience something new. They immerse themselves in a world of learning and academic tradition — and take chances that help them better understand themselves and the world around them.
